Mansion of the Hunter Art Museum

History of the Hunter Art Museum

Some of the more interesting sights in Chattanooga are the Hunter Museum buildings. A 1904 mansion houses mostly 19th century collection and a more contemporary building constructed in 1975 houses 20th century collections of memorabilia and administrative offices.

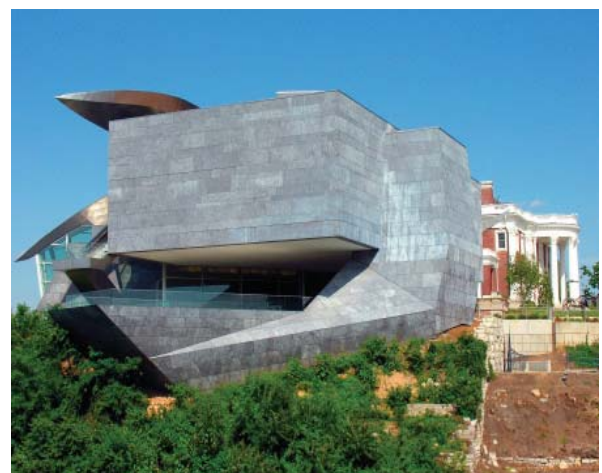

The original mansion was designed and constructed as a home for a wealthy insurance broker, Ross Faxon, in 1904. It changed hands several times and in 1920 it was sold to the widow of Benjamin F. Thomas. Mr. Thomas was one of the founders of the world's first Coca Cola bottling company.

Mr. Thomas' nephew, George Thomas Hunter, began working for his uncle at the age of 17 and rose quickly to become Chairman of the Board that had franchised bottling in almost every state of the union.

At the death of Mr. Hunter the mansion was donated to the Chattanooga Art Association to become Chattanooga's first Art Museum and was named for the donor, Mr. Hunter. It opened its doors on July 12, 1952.

In 1975 an addition was added to the mansion. The addition was built of concrete and has won several prestigious architectural awards. In 1996-97 both the mansion and the contemporary building were renovated.

For visitors to the Chattanooga area, the Hunter Art Museum is a must on your tour itinerary.

Hungate is the Journal of the Hungate Family Historical Society, Inc. and is published each spring. Articles and manuscripts regarding the development and activities of all Hungates are invited. If the Journal is to retain Historical significance we need to include some writing about what we are doing in our daily lives and our contributions to our local communities.

One of the primary missions of the Journal will be to update and keep current the genealogical records of the family. When you are contributing a genealogical update or written material, include the name (s) and the genealogical letter designation. The success of the Journal can be assured only if all Hungates are involved and submit material inclusion. The editor can edit only what is received. The next Journal is scheduled for spring 2008.

HUNGATE FAMILY HISTORICAL SOCIETY
16TH NATIONAL REUNION
CHATTANOOGA, TENNESSEE
JUNE 8-11, 2006

POINT PARK ON LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN

The Howard Johnson Plaza Hotel in Chattanooga, Tennessee, was the setting for this year's family event. A special part of this 16th National Reunion was the celebration of the 30th anniversary of the Hungate Family Historical Society. Family members started arriving on Thursday, June 8, and registered with the host and hostess, Tom and Pat Hungate. Early arrivals visited in the hotel's Garden Room that served for registering, conducting business, socializing and updating family information. One entire wall of the Garden Room was adorned with an elaborate family tree showing genealogy of the Hungates dating back to England in the 1700's. This impressive display represents a hobby and passion for Tom Hungate who constructed this banner nineteen years ago, and transported it to this reunion. He continually updates and reviews family information and encourages members to advise him of any needed corrections on their specific branches of the Hungate tree.

Registration continued on Friday and Saturday, June 9-10. Total count for the reunion was 49 members and guests, with at least six being first time attendees.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS MEETING

Vice President Celia Jones called the meeting to order at 3:05 pm on Friday, July 9, in the Garden Room of the hotel. There was a quorum present to conduct the business of the Society. Leda Bishoff was elected secretary pro-tem.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Patty Atkinson's secretary report from the last national reunion in St. Peters, Missouri, is on pages 15-20 of the Spring 2005 issue of the Hungate Journal. A motion was made, seconded and passed to accept the report.

TREASURER'S REPORT

Treasurer Nina Hungate was unable to attend this year so she sent her financial reports with Leda Bishoff who distributed copies to Board members. Nina's reports outlined detailed accounts of HFHS revenues and expenses for the past two years and a proposed budget for the next two years. Two amendments were made to the proposed budget for 2006-2008. The first was to increase the amount for postage from $1500 to $2000; and the second was to delete the Reunion Deposit of $500 since this is a loan, not an expense. A motion was made, seconded and passed to accept the budget as amended. The entire financial report appears on pages 10, 11, & 12.

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE REPORT

Editor-in-Chief Lloyd Hungate reported that the latest technology of LifeSprings Resources in Franklin Springs, Georgia, has made it possible for our journals to be printed in color while reducing the price by approximately $8 per copy. Our own organization has also taken advantage of technology to reduce its publishing costs by sending e-versions of the Hungate newsletters and other Society materials. Lloyd also offers journals (so far Volume 11, #5 and Volume 12, #1) on compact disk in the .pdf format for viewing on your computers. Whichever version is preferred, Lloyd encourages everyone to order his/her copies. They update family genealogy, allow members to see their families participating in reunion events and provide a fitting heirloom for future generations. A motion was made, seconded and passed to accept the report.

AWARDS COMMITTEE REPORT

Chairperson Judy Werbach reported no candidates have been nominated this year for individual awards. Since this is our 30th year celebration, a decision was made to honor those who attended the 1976 reunion and are attending this year. Those attendees will be honored at the banquet Saturday night, June 10, and Judy will give away recent journals as prizes to others. The purpose of the Awards Committee is to nominate or bring to the attention of the committee someone who deserves recognition; this recognition is not limited to accomplishments within the Hungate Historical Society. Judy requested assistance on this committee. A motion was made, seconded and passed to add to the committee: Patty Atkinson, John Kasky and Prudence Hungate, alternate.

SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE REPORT

Chairperson Judy Werbach reported no applications for the H. Gail Hungate scholarship have been received this year. She explained that the Society may grant two scholarships in one year if one was not awarded the previous year. Anyone who applied but was not awarded a scholarship may apply again in subsequent years. A motion was made, seconded and passed to extend the application deadline from July 1 to August 1 this year only, and to increase the scholarship amount from $1000 to $2000 annually. Perhaps these changes may attract candidates before this year's new deadline, and generate more interest in our scholarship program in future years. Cory J. Hungate received the scholarship in 2005, and is studying at the University of Hawaii.

LIBRARY REPORT

Librarian Phyllis Sliffe reported there was not much activity this year with mailings since few people took advantage of the bargain prices on journals. Volumes 6-10 with inventory in excess of ten are still available for $5 each. A motion was made, seconded and passed to accept the library report. The complete report with items still available for sale appears on page 9.

Tom Hungate reported on two new items he has available for purchase throughout the reunion: an index, on CD, to the Hungate journals ($13) and the new Hungate cookbook ($10). His daughter Dawn Eagan was responsible for putting together the cookbooks.

VIRGINIA REUNION

Catherine Hill is the long-standing hostess of the Virginia regional reunion that is held at the Smart View picnic area along the Blue Ridge Parkway. She would like to see increased participation in this annual event that will be on Sunday, June 25, this year. Everyone is invited to come and bring a picnic lunch to share.

ILLINOIS REUNION

John Kasky has hosted the Illinois regional reunion at the Bonanza Restaurant in Benton for many years. The restaurant closed last year and on short notice John was able to relocate to the Triple E Restaurant in West Frankfort. He anticipates it will not be easy to find a venue for next summer; the place and date will be announced later. John wants to increase participation in this regional reunion and is considering offering prizes to those family members who bring a new person.

OLD BUSINESS

Lloyd Hungate reported on the Steering Committee meeting that was held at 7:30pm on Thursday, June 8. There was agreement that something must be done to ensure that the Hungate Historical Society has a future; there is a need to enlist younger people to begin to take on responsibilities now shouldered mainly by the older generation. The question is: How? This is the computer generation who is more interested in the electronic means of researching as opposed to the old-fashioned custom of getting together as a family and visiting with people whom they haven't seen in several years. The following suggestions were offered:

- 1) a study be made as to what kind of a "game" could be put together that would attract the younger generations: one that could be designed to be played on the computer, possibly for awards to create interest;
- 2) the national reunions be scheduled at 3-5 year intervals; and
- 3) they be scheduled at the same location each time so people would know in advance where they are going to be held and could plan accordingly.

There were no definite recommendations to the Board of Directors at this time; the Steering Committee will continue to work on ideas for possible discussion at the 2008 reunion.

NEW BUSINESS

Lloyd Hungate presented the Nominating Committee report and presided over changes, as discussed and outlined here, to the Board of Directors and to the committees for 2006-2008. Judy Werbach will replace Harry A. Hungate as 2nd Vice President, and this officer will be responsible for awards. Five people on the Board of Directors will be made honorary Board members: Betty L. Hungate, Claude D. Hungate, Dorothy H. Cafarelli, Esther F. Kasky and Charlotte S. Hungate. Lloyd will see if Betty L. Hungate's daughter, Sue Carol Hungate will take her mother's place on the Board. New members on the Board are Tom Hungate, Patty Atkinson and Judy Werbach. Carolyn Hungate is no longer on the Scholarship Committee. Three new members are to be added to the Awards Committee: Patty Atkinson, John Kasky and Prudence Hungate, alternate. A motion was made, seconded and passed to accept the above changes to the Nominating Committee Report 2006. Lloyd will preside over the election of officers in the General Membership meeting.

Site for 2008 reunion: Sandy Hungate has volunteered to host the next national reunion in California but would like suggestions as to where. The Board suggested San Diego or Anaheim. A motion was made, seconded and passed to accept Sandy's offer and give her our two site preferences.

Future national reunions will have a theme. Since the Board is encouraging members to bring someone to the 2008 reunion who did not come to this one, our first theme will be, "Bring Someone Who Did Not Come This Year: A Two-for-One Price." The two-for-one price means free registration and banquet for the second person (guest). We anticipate this special deal will encourage new members to attend and, hopefully, become involved with the Society.

The Board complimented Lloyd on the publication of the excellent 30th anniversary journal; the extra number of color pages, format and history items are impressive.

The meeting was adjourned at 5:05pm.

GENERAL BUSINESS MEETING

Immediately following the Board of Directors meeting, this one was called to order at 5:30pm by President Lloyd Hungate. The Awards portion of the meeting will take place at the banquet tomorrow night, June 10, along with other 30th anniversary recognitions.

Lloyd announced dinner would be on our own tonight; several restaurant choices are found not far from our hotel.

The Society's financial situation is holding steady; the projected income and projected expenses for the next two years is $17,270.

Judy Werbach will be presenting journals as prizes this year instead of the traditional awards. The Awards committee now includes Patty Atkinson, John Kasky and Prudence Hungate, alternate.

Judy announced Cory J. Hungate as the winner of the 2005 H. Gail Hungate scholarship. No scholarship applications have been received this year so the usual deadline of July 1 has been extended to August 1 for this year only. Judy informed the general membership the Board had just raised the scholarship from $1000 to $2000. Judy has application forms with her and they are also online at our site (www.hungate.info/hungatefamily).

Phyllis Sliffe presented an update on items she has for sale; she believes the cookbooks ($10) and the extra journals ($5) are terrific bargains. The $5 journals will last only until the inventory is reduced to ten copies per journal. Gold keys, plaques and tee shirts are among other items available for purchase.

Lloyd urged the general membership to send family happenings for the next volume of the journal. He needs to have your items by December 31st.

Two regional reunions are coming up: Catherine Hill will be hosting the Virginia Reunion in two weeks (June 25) at the Smart View picnic area along the Blue Ridge Parkway, and John Kasky will be hosting the Illinois Reunion somewhere in Southern Illinois next summer. Watch for the date and place to be announced in a future edition of the newsletter.

Lloyd explained and presented changes, additions and deletions the Board had made to the Nominating Committee Report 2006. The general membership voted on and accepted the slate of officers for 2006-2008.

Sandy Hungate has volunteered to host the 2008 Hungate National Reunion in California. The Board has accepted her generous offer and will request the reunion be held in Anaheim or San Diego.

The Steering Committee presented some of their ideas for increasing attendance at the reunions. They felt the "Buy One and Get One" was the best idea; it will be the theme for our 2008 reunion. If you bring a person who did not attend this reunion, your guest will receive free registration and a free ticket to the banquet. The general membership came up with some more suggestions: 1) eliminate registration fees; 2) plan reunions at theme parks or beaches; 3) try to bring in more of the 50+ crowd; and 4) offer prizes of some sort.

A group photo was taken of those attending this meeting, but the main group photo will be taken at the banquet tomorrow night.

SCHEDULED ACTIVITIES ON SATURDAY, JUNE 10

After a complimentary hotel breakfast, we drove to the Tennessee Valley Railroad Museum and boarded an historic steam train for the 6-mile roundtrip ride from the Grand Junction to the East Chattanooga stations. We were given a shop tour and a demonstration of how the steam train locomotive is turned around for the return trip. Our friendly volunteer conductor enjoyed chatting with us and posing for pictures.

Our group gathered in the afternoon for a well-known Chattanooga activity of riding the Incline's railcar from its base to the top of scenic Lookout Mountain. The mile-high ride became increasingly steep, with the grade of the track becoming almost 73% near the top. Claimed to be the world's steepest passenger railway, the Incline carried its first passengers to the top of Lookout Mountain in 1895. Designated as both a National Historic Site and National Mechanical Engineering Landmark, the Incline proved to be an exciting climb to the top for a panoramic view of the city and surrounding mountains. We had time to enjoy the view and take a walk or just enjoy an iced cold drink before heading back down the mountain.

SATURDAY NIGHT BANQUET

The banquet was held at Wally's East Ridge Restaurant at 7:30pm on Saturday, June 10. President Lloyd Hungate gave the welcome address after the meal, with generous remarks commemorating the first Hungate National Reunion in Harrodsburg, Kentucky, in 1976. He honored each person present who had also attended the first reunion by making individual-specific 30th anniversary certificates. These special certificates were presented to:

Marcia Elkins	Marvin Hungate
Mary Elkins	Pat Hungate
Cheryl Files	Prudence Hungate
David Hungate	Celia Jones
Ed Hungate	John Kasky
Elva Hungate	Ed Sliffe
Kenneth Hungate	Phyllis Sliffe
Lloyd Hungate	Ralph Hungate (posthumously)

Tom Hungate was assisted by Indi Rattray as he held a drawing for door prizes: two paintings by Esther Kasky, Hungate journals, print and CD versions of the Index to the Hungate Journals, Hungate pens, new Hungate cookbooks and coasters inscribed with the Hungate emblem. The "lucky number" holders were Dixie Burnett, Walter Burnett, Rachel Carey, Will Carey, Marcia Elkins, Mary Elkins, Tommy Files, John Franklin, Catherine Hill, Kenneth Hungate, Lloyd Hungate, Prudence Hungate, Audrey Jeffries, Celia Jones, John Kasky, Indi Rattray, Phyllis Sliffe and Judy Werbach.

A raffle was held to auction off two editions of the Index to the Hungate Journals. Ed Hungate had the winning bid ($25) for the print version and Lloyd Hungate had the winning bid ($50) for the CD version. Tom Hungate created both editions.

Judy Werbach presented a Hungate Journal (Vol.11, #5, Spring 2005) as a prize to Dawn Eagan, Phyllis Kolb, Marcia Elkins, Susan Romo and Lori Carey. Another journal (Vol.12, #1, Spring 2006) was given as a prize to Cheryl Best, Mary Elkins, John Franklin, Kenneth Hungate, Marvin Hungate and Dana Rattray. Judy Werbach expressed an appreciation to Cheryl Best for co-sponsoring the reunion with her father Tom Hungate.

Bill Bishoff was asked to be the official photographer this year. He photographed several family groupings, many candid shots before and during the banquet and a group photo at the end of the evening.

As the 2006 National Reunion of the Hungate Family Historical Society adjourned at 11:00pm, there was a sense of pride in what our organization has accomplished in its short 30-year history. Also present was a lingering touch of sadness for those who have passed away or are now physically unable to attend these family events. Their insight, faith and dedication helped make this joyous evening possible.

THE HOSPITALITY ROOM

The Garden Room at the Howard Johnson Hotel became the Hospitality Room and was the focal point for getting acquainted and visiting – to enjoy refreshments, relaxation and fellowship.

It was a place to reminisce about past reunions and share family stories.

Pat Hungate, wife of the Host of the 16th biennial Hungate Family Reunion Tom Hungate, maintained the snack and refreshment tables and kept the coffers filled while Tom manned the registration table and kept order to the event.

The Blue Ridge Parkway — known as America's Favorite Drive — celebrates its 70th Birthday this year!

The Blue Ridge parkway follows the Appalachian Mountain chain and provides some of the most spectacular scenery in the world, ranging from 650 to 6,000 feet in elevation. It winds 469 miles from Shenandoah National Park in northern Virginia to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park in North Carolina.

Smart View Park is located at mile marker 154.5, north and east of the town of Floyd, Virginia. One can follow Virginia State Route 8 east from Christiansburg, Virginia to the entrance of the Parkway. Turn left on to the parkway and meander north enjoying the spectacular scenery to mile marker 154.5 and turn right into Smartview Park.

On the fourth Sunday in June of each year at about 10:00 AM you will be welcomed by a clan of Hungates eagerly waiting your arrival to the Eastern States Hungate Reunion. There you will be treated to the best Southern Hospitality and home cooked food any where available.

NOTE FROM THE EDITOR.

Eastern States Reunion

The Eastern States Hungate Reunion, organized and conducted by Area Vice President Catherine Hill, is the oldest continuous operating Hungate Reunion in the US. The last several years it has been held at Smart View Park South of Roanoke, VA, off the Blue Ridge Parkway, in the beautiful Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia. This area is arguably the most scenic location in all America. Because of the concentration of Hungate relative in the area it is typically the best attended reunion of all regional reunions. However, according to Catherine Hill, the last couple of reunions have been down due to illnesses and other unavoidable circumstances.

When producing the Hungate Journal Volume 12 #1 issued in the spring of 2006 the Eastern States Reunion and activities were inadvertently omitted from the publication.

The Editor would like to express his sincere apologies for this omission. The following pages are intended to make up for that omission with hopes that they adequately represent this important event.

The Eastern Hungate Reunion was held on June 26, 2005 at Smart View Picnic Area on the Blue Ridge Parkway. There were 34 people in Attendance.

The weather was beautiful and everyone enjoyed the fellowship and good southern food. We were glad to see some new people who hadn't attended before this year. There have been some health problem among our people which contributed to the few number in attendance. We hope that next year their health will have improved. And we can see them at the next Eastern States Reunion.

I challenge everyone to bring at least one more person with them next year. Hope to see everyone there next year with larger attendance.

Peter and Joyce have a heart for fostering children and have been doing it for a number of years. It was their desire to raise their boys in the country so they took over the Padilla home 14 1/2 years ago when Levi couldn't take care of it any longer. They put a mobile home some 500 feet behind the main house and the boys just love living out here.

About the time of the adoption of the 3 youngest ones, Levi JR (who lives 1/2 mile up the road) built the neatest Fort for the little guys. It even has the upper deck where they can "fire on the enemy". It has 2 swings and a bar swing. They have a lot of fun especially when friends come out. Two years ago Peter and Mitchell started a new business (hydro-seeding). Kyle helps quite a bit too and sometimes, Nathan. Nathan is the main one that helps Joyce out with the little guys. The others do sometimes, too.

Peter and Joyce Padilla ABCEJDEBC, son and daughter-in-law of Nadine Nevins Padilla are the proud parents of 7 adopted children.

Joyce home schools them all. Peter and Joyce are on the State Home Schools Board which sometimes takes them out of town on speaking engagements for curriculum fairs, etc.

SHERRI HALFORD VISITS ENGLAND

A quick note to say we had a WONDERFUL time to England & Scotland.

We spent 2 days and one night in York. The town is very interesting and York Minster is breathtaking. I did find Hungate Street. St. Saviour's Church is on the corner, but unfortunately, the Hungate Street sign is removed as that street is now a dead end alley that runs beside the church. The church is the new DIG headquarters for the Archeological Society, so it has been refurbished and in use. The people working there did confirm that the "alley" was once named Hungate Street.

We rented a car the second day and visited Saxton, spent the morning at Saxton Church and took numerous pictures and shot video footage. They do a wonderful job of maintaining this small, lovely, historic church. Lady Jesse Clegg met us there. She is a delightful and spry 89 year old! And, she was very informative and helpful about the Hungate history in the area. We accepted her gracious invitation afterward for tea in her pretty garden. We thoroughly enjoyed our time with her.

NEWS FROM PATTY ATKINSON ABBKJDBB

Patty Atkinson of Logan, Utah served as Hungate Family Historical Society Secretary from 1984 through 2006 and is currently serving as Family Historian.

Our family just expanded a little with the birth of Alaina Karen Kimball. She arrived a few days early - on November 24th, the third daughter for Sarah and Jason. She is a namesake for her Aunt Karen. Alaina is doing well and surviving all the attention from sisters Kylie and McKell. The Kimballs bought a condo in Clearfield last summer

I went to Rock Hill, South Carolina in October to visit Karen and Mike and celebrate Karen and my mutual birthday on the 26th. We had a great time seeing the beautiful fall colors while touring some of the nearby Revolutionary War sites and the little towns in the area. They have a very enthusiastic dog, one inside cat, one outside cat and a parrot - quite a menagerie. It was hard to say goodbye as it had been a long while since we had been together.

Last winter was a pretty quiet time while I recovered from a broken left ankle. I was walking down a stairway at Scott's house when - Ouch! After a trip to the emergency room, surgery (with pins, etc.) and a couple of months of therapy all is well. I'm back serving two days a week at the Cache Valley Family History Center and generally keeping busy.

Several months ago Scott retired from his job in SLC and is now working just five minutes away from home in Layton, a fact that he likes a lot. Cheryl puts in plenty of time baby sitting as all six little kids are close.

Tyler is working in Layton and living at home. Shannon and Steve (including Nyah and Carson) have just started construction on a new home, which is also nearby. Carinne, Adam and Taylor live in Sandy, just south of Salt Lake, where Carinne is a full time mom and college student. Leslie and Chris are way north in Spokane, Washington where Chris is getting close to obtaining his law degree. They will be here on New Years day for a vacation.

That brings you up to date on the Atkinsons. We hope to hear all about your activities when your Christmas cards are dropped in my mailbox. May God bless you, everyone, throughout 2007 and always.

Dr. Lloyd Tate, noted Physician in St. Louis, Missouri, was born and reared in Southern Illinois near the community of Parrish. The President of the Hungate Family Historical Society, Inc., Lloyd A. Hungate ABBAFFB, was named for Dr. Lloyd Tate the attending Physician who delivered him. As a boy President Hungate worked on Dr. Tate's farm near Parrish and was rewarded at the end of the summer with a trip to St. Louis where he was treated to a baseball game at the St. Louis Cardinal's old Sportsmen's Park. Walla (Wally) was a dentist who practiced among other places at Fort Leaven Worth Federal Prison in Kansas. He finished his career at the Veterans Hospital in Marion, Illinois. Wally also had a farm near Dr. Lloyd's farm and President Hungate work on occasion for Wally as well. Wally was the fun loving of the two brothers. The story is told that Wally was courting his lady friend in a horse and buggy. The horse was particularly lethargic and Wally thinking he would spur the animal along at a faster pace took his gun out and fired over the horses head. At the very moment he fired the horse threw his head up and he shot the horse in the head killing him in his tracks. That story was never really varified but it made for a good yarn any way.

Eula Hungate honored as 60 year exhibitor at Clay County Fair

The 2006 Clay County Fair Board honored 98-year-old Eula Hungate of Everly for having exhibited over the last 60 years in the Floriculture Department at the Clay County Fair. Eula was presented with a lovely plaque signifying her accomplishment.

Eula, who came to Everly from Adrian, Missouri, has always kept a diary. Her diary from 1946 tells how she tore around fixing a zinnia basket that first year. She put the zinnias in a bread loaf pan and placed that in a metal fireplace basket. She remembers her husband Ray Murray carrying that basket across the fairgrounds, and he was a little embarrassed.

She also had cosmos in a vinegar jar, and she and Meta Frydenborg together made an arrangement of pine, cattails and marigolds. She received a blue on the zinnias and a red on the pine arrangement. Her diary also reminds her that they went to the fair all day and it was hot. That night it rained and blew hard.

As a rule, Eula mainly exhibited mantles in niches at the fair. Mantles probably because she had a mantle at home to work with in preparing her exhibit. She did do some tables over the years, but not many. Each exhibit was to go with the theme for that particular class.

The Floriculture buildings have changed over the years. Eula remembers when the floral exhibits were in the corner of the stucco building near the east gate which was a cafe named "The Sheep Shed." It is now "Sillies Cafe." Later, the floral exhibits were in another building next to the east wall of the fairgrounds. It was in that building where Eula particularly remembers a mantle she put up in 1963. She borrowed a seal from The Woman's Shop in Spencer. They were using the seal to advertise their fur coats. That seal was called "Oscar." She used snowshoes on the wall beside Oscar to carry out her outdoor winterscene. She and Ray decided they needed a dried fish to lay in front of Oscar and they succeeded in finding one. Eula received a blue ribbon on that exhibit.

They were in that building for a number of years. Their mantles were over cupboards and the building was not the best. When the new, existing building was built, what a wonderful, exciting experience it was.

It was about 60 years ago when Zola Anderson of Spencer invited Ray and Eula to her home for a Spencer Garden Club supper. It was at that time when Eula became a member of that club. She told that Mrs. Anderson was such an inspiration, as she was the one who wanted to plant the Hopa Crab Trees around Spencer. They have been and still are beautiful each year.

Eula got acquainted with so many people through Garden Club who were interested in the same things as she was: nature, trees and growing things. Her second husband, Bill Hungate also enjoyed Garden Club.

Eula remembers when the group would go together to the fair, take food for lunch and clean up whatever building they had to exhibit in, and get ready for the Clay County Fair.

Over the years, Eula remembers many people she worked with. She remembers how much work it was to bring the floral arrangements to the fair. Ray was good help carrying things to the building and home again. In the early years, they didn't have parking places close to the buildings, so they carried them all the way across the fairgrounds. In later years after Ray's death, her second husband Bill Hungate also helped Eula with the carrying of her arrangements.

Now Bill's daughter Celia comes from Florida the Thursday before the fair and stays to help Eula until the Monday after the fair. This year, Eula's nephew and niece from Kansas came and saw how much work and fun it was to have projects at the fair. They really enjoyed it.

Eula plans to retire, we will surely miss her displays. This most certainly has been a labor of love for Eula, and an enjoyment for everyone else.

Our congratulations to Eula Hungate on her 60 year achievement displaying her mantles and niches at the Clay County Fair.

SECOND PLACE EXHIBIT -- Eula Hungate received second place with the "Birdhouse Friend" exhibit. Note the wren in front of the birdhouse. Clarence Scharnberg, formerly of Everly, carved the wren out of a basswood tree that had fallen down across the street from Eula's years ago. News Photo.

Eula Hungate is the widow of Bill Hungate ABBCBCDAA and Step Mother of Celia H. Jones, Executive Vice President of The Hungate Family Historical Society, Inc.

Dear Lloyd,

Firstly: grateful thanks and much appreciation for the Hungate Journal Volume 12 Number 1 - 30th Anniversary Edition. This is a marvellous production and congratulations are due to all concerned. On reading it, I became so re-orientated into Hungate affairs that when I saw the name David Hungate 'neath a photograph I started to look for a picture of myself!

I am even more confident in the well-being of the Society; it is heartening to see the introduction of more new members and especially young people. I still have the audio-tape of speeches on the first HFHS visit to York when artist Alfred Gill said "you really are a Yorkshire family you know!"

Certainly one of the most distinguished families in Yorkshire's history - long may the family name continue to flourish in the two "Uniteds" - States and Kingdom.

Dear Lloyd,

Thank you very much for your nice letter which came yesterday with a cheque of $500.00 for Saxton Church. I will pass it on to our treasurer Carol Wilkes, when she returns from holiday. The Saxton Church Council are very grateful to the Hungate Family for their generous help each year. Carol will send you an official receipt.

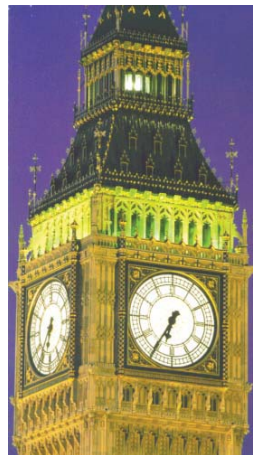

I was delighted to meet Sherri Halford and her husband, Hollis and their friends Bobby and Cathy Harrell. I am so glad she phoned me on Wednesday morning. You know that I am always pleased to meet any folk from the Hungate Family. Sherri has become interested in researching her family connection with Saxton, the home of the early Hungates in the 15th century AD. It was a beautiful day and they joined me for tea and biscuits in my garden.

I was glad to hear that your wife is doing well with her chemotherapy. I hope she continues to improve. I am also glad that you were able to attend the National Reunion in Chattanooga, Tennessee and the Virginia Reunion on the Blue Ridge Mountains. I will remember attending the National Reunion in Virginia. (Was it 8 years ago?) After leaving Roanoke, I went to spend 2 weeks with my cousin Hewitt Phillips who lives in Hampton, Virginia. He took me to North Carolina - to Nags Head where the Wright Brothers flew the first plane in 1903.

We are having an exceptionally hot dry month and the lack of rain is beginning to worry everyone - especially gardeners. I am enjoying the lovely sunshine very much, and when it gets warm, I put my reclining chair underneath the apple tree in the shade.

Many thanks for your generous donation to the Church. All good wishes to you and Pat

Dear Lloyd:

I was very please to receive the Hungate Journal this week. I was particularly honoured that you gave a whole page of news and tributes to me and David Wade – the two honorary members of the Hungate Family.

Thank you very much for all your kind words and good wishes. Over thirty years I have enjoyed the friendship of so many Hungate members, every since I met Dr. Carroll Hungate in 1977

All the succeeding Presidents have been great friends, and I have many happy memories of visits to your reunions and of your family visits to Saxton.

I have been thinking about your wife recently and wondering how she is coping with the treatments. It must be a worrying time for both of you. I hope the treatment is successful.

I would like to come to your reunion this year but my traveling days aboard are over. So, people must come and visit me. Give my good wishes to everyone at the reunion and I hope you have a lovely time.

Thank you for the Journal, I shall pass it around to friends in the village. All good wishes.

Raleen Hungate Hockenberry ABBCBPAAAB Scotts Mills, Oregon Receives Little League Challenger Award

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (Aug. 2, 2006)

The Little League Baseball Challenger Award recognizes the loyal support of volunteers who help children with disabilities enjoy the benefits of playing Little League. Raleen Hockenberry of Scotts Mills, Ore., will receive the Little League Challenger Award when she is honored this month at the 2006 Little League Baseball World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

Mrs. Hockenberry introduced Little League's Challenger Division to her home league, Silverton Little League in 1992, and coordinated the program until 2001. That year, she assumed the duties of assistant district administrator for Oregon District 7, but continued to promote and organize the Challenger Division through her involvement with recruitment, registration and scheduling of games.

"Raleen is very devoted to working with Challenger kids, and is always looking for new ideas on how to make each and every game these kids play a memorable game," Debbie Bedell, Oregon District 7 administrator, said. "She goes out of her way when meeting new people to discuss, and find out where there may be, players interested in being a part of the Challenger program."

Helping to charter Challenger Division teams in Districts 7 and 9, Mrs. Hockenberry has also organized a fall ball program and continues to promote and help start Challenger teams in other areas of Oregon. In 2003, she was elected Oregon District 9 Administrator, but continues to assist and provide guidance to District 7's volunteer staff.

"Mrs. Hockenberry has embraced the Challenger Division and worked diligently to improve the program throughout Oregon," Stephen D. Keener, president and chief executive officer of Little League Baseball and Softball, said. "Her belief in the program and support of the children is evident, but it is her imagination on how to educate the public on the benefits of the Challenger Division and the commitment to making every moment fun for the players that has helped it thrive."

Some of Mrs. Hockenberry's personal touches have become tradition, including a season-ending pizza party at a Salem Volcanoes minor league baseball game, games on Alpenrose Stadium, sight of the Little League Softball World Series, playing fields decorated with balloons, and games with uniformed Little League umpires.

Started in 1989, the Challenger Division is the fastest growing division in the Little League program, servicing nearly 28,000 children worldwide, ages five to 18. The Little League Challenger Award was established in 1998 and annually acknowledges the efforts of a certain individual who exemplifies the Little League ideal of providing all youngsters an opportunity to play baseball regardless of their ability.

Little League Baseball and Softball is the world's largest organized youth sports program, with nearly 2.7 million players and 1 million adult volunteers in every U.S. state and scores of other countries.

October 6, 2006

Dear distinguished members of the Hungate Historical Society Scholarship Committee:

I am honored and truly grateful for being chosen as the recipient of the 2006 H. Gale Hungate scholarship. I am humbled and extremely appreciative of the financial assistance the scholarship will provide towards my completion of my Masters in Educational Leadership.

Please pass on my sincere gratitude to all members of the Hungate Historical Society involved in the decision making process for the 2006 scholarship. Being on my school's scholarship selection committee for the past several years, I now better know the significance and meaningful impact felt by those selected to receive financial assistance.

As I opened your letter and saw the exclamation mark at the end of the first word, "Congratulations," I began to read the letter out loud to my two children waiting anxiously for good news. Both my eight-year-old and six-year-old screamed, jumped up and down, and ran over to me with hugs, kisses, and words of encouragement. They were very proud of their Daddy. My father, Thomas E. Hungate, was the first phone call I made within a minute or two of opening your letter. He too was excited and congratulatory. I guess you could easily say that my Dad was proud of me too.

In closing, let me just say again how appreciative my family is to you for this financial assistance towards my Masters. My wife, Angela, my daughter, Brianna, my son, Bailey, and I thank you from the bottom of our hearts for selecting me as the 2006 H. Gail Hungate scholarship recipient. I am proud to be a Hungate and a member of the Hungate Historical Society.

Sincerely,
Tommy L. Hungate (ABBCBCAFCBF)

Remarks by Rodney Marcum, Asst. Principal

We have had special people that passed through our lives, but we seldom have the opportunity to leave something to keep their memories alive.

Today we would like everyone to reflect on the life and career of Doris Ackerman who sacrificed many long hours here at McColl School to make a difference in so many kids’ lives. We were blessed to have known Doris and have had the opportunity to work with her. We are very happy to have the opportunity to keep her memory alive by dedicating this drive/parking area to her. From this day forward, the elementary parking entrance will be known as “Doris Lane”.

Flag at Half Mast

During a misty and rainy afternoon, McColl Elementary Middle School held a special memorial, naming a road and parking area, in honor of Doris Elaine Ackerman, former teacher.

The October 9, 2006 memorial service was held in front of the school as Doris Lane street sign was unveiled. The light pole post which became the Doris Lane street sign had been placed on the property in 1912 when McColl, South Carolina was installing town water and electricity.

Doris Elaine Ackerman was born April 19, 1956 in Scotland County, North Carolina. She was the daughter of Louise Currie Ackerman Blizard and the late Erbert Ackerman.

Hired as a teacher at McColl Primary in August 1977, Ms Ackerman taught second grade for twenty eight years. She passed away June 28, 2005.

The Ackerman Memorial was sparked by Rodney Marcum. During a recent McColl School intercession, Mr. Marcum and staff worked to ready the sign, plant shrubbery, and beautify what would become Doris Lane.

In the course of the actual ceremony, Doris Ackerman's family members were presented with the 2005-2006 school annual. One of the annual's highlights was a page to the memory of Doris Elaine Ackerman.

Doris Ackerman was the sister of the late Patricia Ackerman Hungate, wife of Lloyd Hungate, President of the Hungate Family Historical Society.

*Story Behind the Flag Being at Half Staff

The irony of the flag being at half staff for Doris' dedication is that several years ago at an event honoring a state dignitary Doris made the statement "they wouldn't lower the flag to half staff if it were me being recognized".

This is a true story; as the flag was being raised on the morning of October 9, 2006, the day of Doris' Memorial Dedication, the rope and pulley mechanism on the flag pole malfunctioned and the flag stopped at half staff.

The family and friends that knew Doris and knew of her deep and abiding faith would like to think that her Creator had a hand in the malfunctioning of that flag mechanism that day.

Currie Clan Gathers for 93rd Annual Reunion

The Currie family has met every year except two since 1911

John and Kate Currie had seven children. Duncan was the forefather of the Laurel Hill Currie Clan. He married Cynthia Chance and settled in what is Scotland County, near the Old Laurel Hill Presbyterian Church. Laurinburg, N. C.

The Currie Clan gathered at the Old Laurel Hill Presbyterian Church on McFarland Road Sunday, August 13, 2006 for the 93rd annual family reunion.

The Currie family has met every year except for two since 1911. Members of the Currie family are descendants of John and Kate Blue Currie, who sailed from England on the ship "Freedom" in 1745. They landed in Wilmington and settled in the Cape Fear region where relatives had come on in 1712.

John and Kate Blue Currie moved to Moore County near the area which later became Southern Pines. John was a Scottish Highlander and his original name was McCorrie or McCurrie. For reasons unknown, the Scottish prefix, meaning "son of", was dropped after settling in Moore County.

John and Kate Currie had seven children. Duncan was the forefather of the Laurel Hill Currie Clan. He married Cynthia Chance and settled in what is Scotland County, near the Old Laurel Hill Presbyterian Church.

Katie Seals Currie was the oldest of the 73 family members and friends attending the reunion this year. She was 103 in May. Her late husband was Jim Currie, son of William Neal and Donella Peele Currie. When asked to speak, her first comment was, "Well, I'm still here." Her memory is remarkable and she is called upon often to clear up questions about family history.

Robert Currie attended along with several members of his family. Robert is from the R.C. Currie family. The majority of the members present were descendants of William Neal and Donella Peele Currie. Ten children were born to that family and all are deceased. Remaining are two widows, Kate Currie and Emma Lee Langley Currie, widow of Shaw Currie. She lives in the old Currie home on Shaw Currie Road.

Since 1996, Donnie Lytle McMillan of Fayetteville has been the "clan historian". She is the daughter of the late Mattie Currie Lytle. She made the announcement this year that she is stepping down, and that her cousin, Virginia Currie Bates, has accepted the responsibility of historian. Virginia is the Daughter of Shaw and Emma Lee Currie. She and her husband, Don, live next to the Currie home on Shaw Currie Road.

A picnic was enjoyed as the clan reminisced with cousins about reunions of the past. "We remembered the old days when tables were set up under huge oak trees in the yards of various family members," McMillan said. "We were not used to air-conditioning and it was hot, but at that time we did not even know about air-conditioning. So no one knew the difference. Now we do know the difference and for years have enjoyed the cool air-condition comfort of the Old Laurel Hill Church Fellowship Hall."

All of us are looking forward to seeing our relatives again," McMillan added.

The Currie Clan will meet again on the second Sunday in August 2007.

THOMAS E. HUNGATE ABBCBCAFCB
Reports Pat's unfortunate accident

Hi All

Well this time it's a broken right leg for my honey, Pat. As I write, she is resting in bed with a temporary splint (to allow for swelling) 4" fiberglass molded strip under her foot and up the calf half way. It is secured with an 'ace' bandage. She cannot put any weight down on this splint. She's in a lot of pain just to get up and down with much help lifting and guiding. She rests well, with the pain meds of course, but very sensitive to the touch as the cold packs are changed in and out. Roses from Chris & Heather brighten the room.

This happened on Friday as she left the post office and misjudged the curb location and tripped and fell. Pat broke her right leg just above the ankle. During the fall, the foot had jarred 90 degrees to the right. She crawled to the car, pulled herself in and drove home. However, on the way she stopped at a pharmacy drive-in to pick up my prescriptions. (Unreal I'd say, but not for a McQueary)

Somehow she & I got her from the driver seat into the back seat and I drove to our Hospital emergency room (only about 2 miles away). X-rays showed the fibula & tibia broken and the 90-degree foot twist (ugly to look at, for sure). An orthopedic doctor who specialized in setting bones was called in. After two tries, two sets of pain meds and she & another pulling and twisting, Pat's foot was maneuvered into place and the splint was applied. It took her about 5 hours to sleep off the meds. Then with the help of two male nurses and a wheel chair, we got her into the front seat of the Honda Accord.

Why wasn't she driving her car, the Pontiac Bonneville? Because about a week ago some guy ran a red light, smashed into the driver's side fender and wheel, as Pat started across the intersection on the green light. She was not hurt. He had insurance, but the car was a 'total' for a '91's value. So they paid us $2K and it's at our mechanics now. Fender, headlight, parking & turn light, tire, wheel rim, and front end misalignment. Hopefully, not a bent frame. Can you believe this?

Tomorrow we're to contact another orthopedic doctor for fracture follow up and eventually some kind of permanent cast. Instructions for future doctoring were not to clear from the emergency room, as their job was finished. In the meantime we've got my sister Dahlia's wheel chair to get from the car to the house. Steve brought it over just in time to bring Pat in from the car. Marvin (Pam's husband) built a small ramp across the front threshold. I've reinstalled Dahlia's toilet armrest. Dawn, Marvin, Sarah, Cheryl, Jake, Nanette, Steve and Teresa were here yesterday to help and visit. Cheryl bought and installed 5" lifts to raise the bed for easier entry and exit. I did the shopping routine for a bed pan, depends and bed pads. TV & VCR installed for her bedside viewing. Dawn brought lots of tapes & DVD's for her enjoyment.

I'm playing 'Mr. Nurse & Home-maker' again only a few weeks after my time during her heart stent episode. Too bad too, because 'the McQueary' had taken over all the chores while in her 8th week since the heart attack. Yup, just kicked me out of the kitchen, she did. <grin> Little did she know there was a secret plan to get my job title back.

Your prayers were answered, but bet you didn't know that you were asking for this.

Further Update on Pat's Progress

Mom's surgery went great. The pin is out and she came out with the ankle wrapped with dressing and an ace bandage. Old cast is by by. The above boot was fitting while she rested in her bed right after we got home. The toe # 5 on left foot is also by by, with dressing and an ace bandage just like the broken ankle.

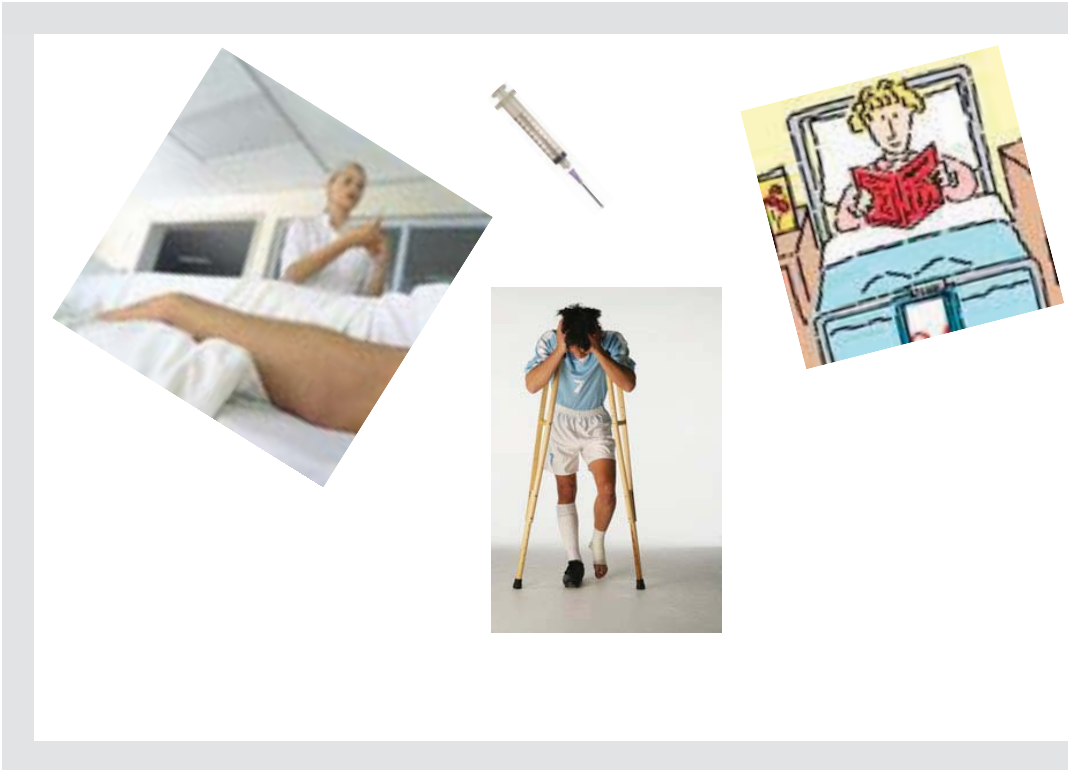

Some pain transferring from the bed, but she is able to do it ok.

I'm elated and really happy that health wise and mechanically all is going great. Woopeeeee.

Now on to rehab and getting Mom out of the wheelchair once in a while. We go to the Surgeon's office next week for a check up and more instructions.

How Tom Survived!

Me, I'm exhausted and I didn't even do anything but set around and wait at the hospital today. By the way, I go next week for a Botox treatment (shots directly in the head and neck) for Migraines. Hope it extends the time between headache starts (avg 15 hours now - bummer). I'm getting over a bad case of Bronchitis, but nebulizer and Coloidal Silver doing its job just fine.

Hazel Hungate

Wife of F. Earl Hungate
ABBCBCAJC

Died October 26, 2006

Eulogy by Harriett
Busteed ABBCBCAJCA

When my mother was born, she was number seven, of eight children. When number six started school, she was left behind at home with no other siblings to play with. She did not like that, and had a little hizzy. She wanted to go to school, too. My grandmother had finally had enough of her fussing, went to talk to the principal, who agreed to allow her to start earlier than most of the children at that time.

There was one problem to be addressed before she could begin. She had to have a name. At home she was called Baby. My grandparents allowed her to choose her own first name. She liked a neighbor lady named Hazel, so that was it.

Because she started school early, she graduated from High School when she was 16 years old. She wanted to follow two older sisters and an older brother, to become a teacher. She graduated in a two-year program at ND State Normal School in Valley City, in Education.

At the tender age of 18 years, in 1932 her teaching career began, in a small German farming community in North Dakota, far from home. When she got off the train, the depot agent told her if she was smart, she would get right back on that train and keep going. She just straighten her spine and told him "I am here to teach". He first year of teaching was in a one-room school house. The children only spoke German, and she only spoke English. I have no idea how they managed, but everyone was satisfied, that children did learn.

The farm family that she boarded with, gave her a horse and wagon to drive to school every day. One day, in the winter, she was on her way to the school during a blizzard. The horse would not turn into the school yard when she pulled on the reins. Her first thought was, "I'm going to freeze to death and be buried in a snow drift; nobody will find me until the first thaw". As that thought ended, the horse stopped, then turned, and pulled the wagon right up next to the school. That old horse had been pulling a teacher in a wagon to that school for many years before my mother was there to teach. Also, during that winter, the bed in the room she used was against an outside wall. Every night the blankets would stick and freeze against that wall.

One time in 1935, when she was home, she went to a community dance, where she met Earl, her soon to be husband. He was strongly urged by his mother to "court her" when mother-in-law to be found out that she was educated and a teacher. Everyone in the family knew when Earl was coming to my grandparents' home. Hazel made Jello! It was the only thing she ever learned to cook as a girl.

In those times a female teacher was fired if she married. So when my parents wanted to marry in 1936, they eloped, rode a train from the eastern part of ND to the western border to marry. For two years, the only people that knew they married were my father's parents who were witnesses to the marriage. We still have my mother's dress that she wore for her marriage.

When my mother's parents and family moved to Oregon in 1937, my father followed but ended up in Camas, WA, with a job waiting for him in the paper mill. My mother was left to sell the Merritt family home and belongings, with great difficulty during The Depression. Soon she was on her way to Oregon, once again, teaching in a one-room school house near Lebanon, OR, for a year. After that one year, my parents announced their marriage, and began a life together in Camas, WA.

Margaret Velma McMasters

Margaret Velma McMasters, ABBIGDFC, passed away on September 4, 2006 a Dominican Hospital at the age of 92. She was born on June 26, 1914 at Centropolis, Kansas to Harry and Carrie Fisher. Velma grew up with three sisters and a brother on her parents' farm, attending rural schools, and graduated from Ottawa High School in 1931. During her High School years she became an outstanding flautist. She also played piano very well.

Because of the depression there was no money for her to go to college so she took an exam to get certified to teach rural school. She taught two years.

She married her high school sweetheart, Wayne McMasters, in 1933. she stopped teaching in 1933 to raise a family. She had two sons, Alan and Harold.

In 1936 her husband took a job with the U.S. Government's Railway Postal Service and the family moved to Kansas City, Missouri. In 1944, the family moved to Montrose in Southern California. During her family raising years she was active in PTA, Boy Scouts, and the local Women's Club.

Her sons graduated from high school and went to the University of California at Berkley in the early 1950's so Velma decided to also go to college. She enrolled in Glendale Junior College in the fall of 1955 at the age of 41. After a year at Glendale JC she transferred to Berkley and majored in accounting. The family moved to El Cerrito and her sons moved home from their fraternity so they could have better studying conditions. Velma ran the household in addition to being a student.

Velma graduated Phi Beta Kappa in 1958 and Beta Gamma Sigma business honor associate in MBA in 1960. During her graduate work she was a teaching assistant in accounting.

During the past 20 years Velma and Wayne traveled to Europe several times and to Australia. They became deeply involved in their family genealogy, doing extensive research both in the United States and Europe. Velma wrote several booklets for her family about what she had learned. She also bought herself a Hammond Organ and learned to play.

Velma is survived by Wayne, her husband of 73 years; her two sons, Alan of Monterey and Harold of Sandpoint, Idaho; two sisters, Lois Wheeler of Haddonfield, New Jersey and Eldred Rappard of Ottawa, Kansas. Ten grandchildren and seven great grandchildren also survive her. On service was planned.

Dear Lloyd,

I want you to know how sorry I am to hear about the loss of your dear wife. We in our family had a tragic death. My grandson, Monty Hatchett ABBCBPAACBA died the day after Thanksgiving. While scuba diving with his 15 year old son, something malfunctioned with Monty's gear. His son Zac tried to help him, but he was flailing and got water in his lungs. Zac pulled him to shore and tried to revive him to no avail. They were both certified scuba divers.

I am enclosing his obituary from our Tulsa newspaper. I have several and do not want it back.

Sincerely,
Emma Lee (Hungate) Hatchett Wolfe

Christopher "Mony" Hatchett
ABBCBPAACBA

Christopher Montgomery "Monty" Hatchett, 36 was born January 14, 1970 and passed away Friday, November 24, 2006. Monty grew up in Tulsa and attended Jenks High School, where he played varsity soccer and football. He captained several state championship soccer teams throughout his youth, including a Tulsa club team that contended for the national championship.

While he loved the name of soccer dearly, one of his other passions was airplanes. Shortly after High School he enlisted in the U.S. Air Force, where he served four years active duty as a Flight Line Mechanic at several California military bases and re-enlisted as a Reservist for four more years. During this term, Monty married the love of his life, Melanie Scheer (also of Tulsa) and they had a son Zachary in 1991, while stationed at Travis AFB

He also played semi-professional soccer in the northern California area. After serving in the military, Monty again felt the tug of civic obligation and out himself through Gavilan Police Academy in Gilroy, CA. he served proudly as a Patrol Officer for the cities of Los Gatos and Watsonville, CA, for over five years honored for his courage under fire and enjoyed his work with K-9 units. In 1998, the Hatchett family was blessed with the birth of their second son, Zane, in Santa Cruz, CA. But Monty's heart again gravitated toward airplanes and he was afforded the opportunity to work Reno Air (which later merged with American Airlines), where he was a maintenance Supervisor in San Francisco.

Shortly thereafter, Monty and his family moved from California to Keller, TX, where he continued to work for American Airlines, until 2005. In March of 2003, he volunteered to be part of the Craft Mission, which helped AA transport troops and equipment into Iraq. The move to Texas afforded Monty the opportunity to rekindle one of his other passions, playing and coaching soccer. There he coached several select youth soccer teams and served as an inspiration to all his players. Opportunity knocked on Monty's door once again, and he accepted a position with the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). The job took Monty and his family from Texas to California once again, where they embarked on their most recent adventure until his untimely death last Friday afternoon, while scuba diving with his son, Zachary.

Monty was an adoring husband and father; he was a beloved son and brother. He loved soccer, airplanes, motorcycles, golf, scuba diving, and camping. But more than anything he loved life. He loved his family and friends. He survived by his beloved family that includes his wife of 17 years, Melanie Scheer Hatchett; his two sons Zachary 15 and Zane 8; his parents, Rod and Chris Hatchett of Tulsa; his brother, Derek's family of Brookline, MA; his wife's parents, Jim and Christa Scheer of Soquel, CA; his grandmother, Emma Lee Wolfe of Tulsa; and numerous aunts, uncles and cousins. Memorial service was held at Asbury Methodist Chapel at 1 pm Friday December 1, 2006.
